Dear Hillel Community,

As a follow up to my earlier statement about Hillel Milwaukee moving to an online learning platform as a result of the coronavirus outbreak, I wanted to follow up with the decision that we made to close the Hillel Milwaukee building until Monday, April 13th. Our team will all be working remotely during this time as a measure to ensure we all stay healthy and mitigate spreading of the virus. We are hard at work planning creative, fun ways to stay connected with you, our students, during this time and we encourage you to share your thoughts and suggestions too. It is more important than ever that we continue to strengthen our Kehillah Kedoshah- our holy community, and know that the Hillel team is here to support you in any way that you need. Please note that the proverbial 'door' is always open and we trust that you will reach out on ways we can be supportive. We will be creating new, inventive spaces for Jewish learning, mindfulness and wellness, and of course Israeli cooking! We trust that you are stocking up (but leaving some toilet paper for your neighbor!), practicing social distancing and finding ways to stay connected with friends and family.

Kol Tuv (all good things) and we look forward to the time when we can all be together soon.

Julie Schack
Executive Director, Hillel Milwaukee
